IOSH Managing Safely Refresher Training

The IOSH Managing Safely continues to be an extremely popular course, and to support the course IOSH have now produced the Refresher course, which they recommend is taken every three year.

The IOSH Managing Safely Refresher is a one day training course that provides previously successful delegates the opportunity to recap the core elements of the original IOSH Managing Safely Course, including items such as how to identify, evaluate and control workplace risks, as well as how to evaluate safety systems and strategies in the workplace.

The course also updates candidate's knowledge in line with any relevant changes to legislation, standards, and good practice guidance since their passing the original three day course.

By refreshing their knowledge on these topics, candidates will be building upon and underpinning their experience in promoting Best Health & Safety Practices, thus delivering these benefits to your Company.
